

SMALL FORCES WIN COMPLETE VICTORY IN HOUSE TUESDAY

Veto of Brundage Appropriation by Governor is Upheld

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—Advocates of Governor Small in the house of representatives won a complete victory today when the gubernatorial veto of $513,000 of the biennial appropriation to Attorney General Brundage was upheld. After two vetoed items had been beaten earlier in the afternoon, Brundage supporters conceded defeat at 4:30 p. m. and the fight was dropped.

The first two roll calls, taken before the house recessed at 1:50 p. m., showed the opponents of the veto losing ground being 31 votes short of the required two-thirds division on the second, and when the house reconvened it was announced that no further effort would be made to defeat the veto.

Representative Castle, Republican, Harrison, said the attorney general had stated he did not wish the house to take up any more time with the bill as it was futile. The announcement was greeted by cheers and applause from friends of the governor on the floor and in the gallery.

The vetoed items on which crats voted to override; likewise of $16,000 for inheritance tax collection in Cook county and that of $175,000 yearly for employing special assistants in connection with Illinois central and "Blue sky" litigation and other legal matters. The vote on the first was 76 to 55, the Brundage forces lacking 26 votes to win, and on the second it was 71 to 61.

Both Republicans and Democrats to override, and likewise members of both parties moved to sustain Governor Small's action. The Democrats whose position has been a matter of conjecture and a subject of many political conferences, voted as individuals with the friends of the governor particularly greater in number to those of Attorney General Brundage.

McCarthy and Reeves went over to the veto side and voted to uphold the gubernatorial objection; Brinkley said no; Fekete, Mrs. O'Neill and Noonan voted aye; Frole and Gallas did not vote; Hargrave voted no; Lipka was absent and Mathis and Porina voted present.

During this second roll call, calling of representative Lipka's name was followed by a "no." Representative Mitchell, Chicago, challenged the veto and it was found that Mr. Lipka was not in the chamber at the time his name was called.

JUDGE DINGEMAN BEGINS TO USE POWER OF COURT Sends Girl to Jail for Refusing to Answer Questions

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 15.—Judge Harry Dingeman, presiding circuit court judge of the Michigan bench, and one-man grand jury investigating charges of alleged immorality in the House of David colony, started to use the power of the court today to compel witnesses to answer questions when he sentenced Gay Crow, a seventeen year old Shiloh girl to jail.

Later she was returned to the stand and answered the questions she had previously refused to reply to and was shortly afterward on her way back to Shiloh in the care of Mrs. Cora Mooney. The incident was believed by many to be the beginning of drastic action to be taken by the one-man grand jury to secure prompt and truthful answers to the questions he asks.

Judge Dingeman said he expected to use his power still further by sending a physician to the colony to examine Etidorpha Sachs whose subpoena to appear was answered by a physician's certificate that she was too ill. Judge Dingeman said she had been seen walking about the grounds of the House of David.

Failure to produce Miss Sachs was the first time that the requests for witnesses had not been promptly met by the House of David colony.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEN IN HOT SPRINGS

(By The Associated Press)
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 15.—While Hot Springs was virtually cut off from the outside world today and the fate of this little city caught in the clutches of a tornado, flood and fire, was in doubt, airplanes were hastening here from several directions, bearing newspaper men to "cover" the story.

Of four planes which are known to have started for Hot Springs, only two have arrived, these carrying representatives of The Associated Press.

Another with a Kansas City newspaper man aboard had not been heard from and was believed to be somewhere in the midst of the Osage mountains. The fourth plane, carrying A. F. Gader, representative of the Fort Smith American, a member of The Associated Press, ran into adverse air currents and atmospheric conditions when within a few miles of Hot Springs and was forced to fly to Little Rock and land. The plane will fly to Hot Springs tomorrow.

One of the planes arriving and carrying E. B. Bixby, editor of the Muskogee Oklahoma Phoenix and representatives of the Associated Press was an army battle plane, ordered by government officials at Washington to carry him to the storm torn city.

The plane was piloted by Major T. G. Lamphier, Fort Sill, Okla. The plane arriving from Kansas City with an Associated Press staff correspondent, encountered heavy rain storms between Pittsburg, Kansas and Muskogee.

Tonight five press representatives are here, four of them representing The Associated Press.

EVIDENCE REFUTES SOME OF THEORIES IN MOUNT MYSTERY

Boy Says Skeleton Was Not Weighted Down with Rocks

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 15.—The grand jury investigating the disappearance twenty months ago of Leighton Mount, Northwestern university freshman, turned its attention today to other matters while the state's attorney's office attempted to disentangle the snarled threads of the case.

Evidence gathered today tended to refute some of the previous theories of the case rather than support them.

Evidence indicating murder or accidental death in a hazing episode, and later concealment of the body was partly refuted today when Henry Warren, 12 year old boy, who discovered a skeleton under an Evanston pier believed by the authorities to be Mount's, told investigators that it was not weighted down with heavy rocks. The Evanston police who removed the skeleton from under the pier however contradicted him.

The suicide theory was given credence by Dr. Clarence F. Neymann, a psychiatrist, who said he believed Mount to be moody and capable of desperate action under certain circumstances.

A report that the missing boy's sister had received a letter from him months after he had disappeared was denied by the sister, but the voluntary disappearance theory was strengthened by statements of Dr. Herman Steinborn, a Christian Science practitioner, who said he had seen Mount three weeks after he disappeared.

Vergil Fitch of Ludington, Mich., prosecuting attorney of Mason county and father of Roscoe Fitch, former room mate of Mount, arrived here today to help question his son. The youth who after denying that he knew of the Mount case admitted he knew the facts in connection with the death of Louis Aubere, a student killed three weeks ago in an automobile accident following a clash of light, reiterated Mount's disappearance under questioning by his father. He said he saw Mount at 2 o'clock the night of the rush but did not know what happened to him.

Audrey Longquist Scott, bride of Fred Scott, nephew of Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern, and who is suing for annulment of her marriage, was also questioned today. She said she did not know Scott then and was unable to give no information of value.

Judge Michael McKinley, chief justice of the criminal court, took a hand in the investigation when he summoned assistant state attorneys before him. He offered no explanation of his interest in the case.

A possibility that the skeleton identified by Mount's parents and a dentist as that of the missing boy, might be that of another missing student was being investigated following the receipt by the state's attorney of a letter from P. A. Nelson of Caspion, Wis., stating that Norman A. Campbell's nephew, and a student at Northwestern, disappeared about three months after Mount vanished.

An unofficial student directory for 1922 did not give Campbell's name as a student and officials have not checked the registrar's records.

Mystery of Sugar Meeting Dispelled

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 15.—Mystery surrounding a secret meeting on the floor of the New York coffee and sugar exchange today was dispelled tonight when it was learned that John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain now counsel for the exchange had appeared on the floor and announced the taking of an appeal by the attorney general against the refusal of the federal district court to grant the government's petition for an injunction against trading in sugar futures.

The secret meeting was called before trading began and newspaper men, messenger boys and attendants, were ordered off the floor. Trading began afterward but exchange officials refused to make known at the time the nature of the announcement made at the meeting.

The outgrowth of the government's investigation of the high price of sugar Leopold S. Bache, a member of the exchange's board of governors, and several other individual brokers were subpoenaed to appear tomorrow morning before a federal grand jury.

Officials of the exchange flatly denied a report that a mass meeting would be held in the Wall

TALKING POLITICS WOULDN'T BE FAIR W. G. M'ADOO SAYS

Tells Reporters That the Foreign Situation is Bad as Ever

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 15.—William Gibbs M'Adoo, former secretary of the treasury and son-in-law of former President Wilson, was here today busily engaged in "passing thru Chicago."

Between making many long distance phone calls receiving and answering numerous telegrams and perusing the contents of several brief cases, Mr. M'Adoo found time to tell reporters that he would not discuss politics because it "wouldn't be fair." He described the foreign situation as "bad as ever" and declined to talk about reports that he might be a presidential candidate.

MOVIES TO TAKE PLACE OF BOOKS EDISON BELIEVES

Inventor Says Will be Used Entirely in Twenty Years

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 15.—The children of today's school children will get their education at schools in which the movie screen will supplant the blackboard and the motion picture film will take the place of text books, Thomas A. Edison predicted today at the investigation by the federal trade commission of charges that the Famous Players-Lasky corporation and six allied organizations constitute a motion picture trust.

The famous inventor whose recent questionnaires have led him to say harsh things about present educational methods in the United States was called for the purpose of developing the importance of the film industry and its possibilities for the future.

He disclosed for the first time experiments with school children which he said had convinced him that 85 per cent of all knowledge is received thru the eye and that motion pictures are 100 per cent efficient for its dissemination.

"I have made a good many experiments in the line of teaching children by other methods than books," Mr. Edison told the commission. "I made an experiment with a lot of pictures to teach children chemistry. I got 12 children and asked them to write down what they had learned from the pictures. I was amazed that such a complicated subject as chemistry was readily grasped by them to a large extent thru pictures. The parts of the pictures they did not understand, did over and over again, until they finally understood the entire picture."

"What, in your opinion is the future growth of the motion picture?" Mr. Edison was asked.

"I think motion pictures have just started," he said, "and it is my opinion that in 20 years children will be taught thru pictures and not thru books."

Asked his opinion as to the general influence over the people of motion picture films, Mr. Edison said:

"The motion picture is the most powerful avenue of influencing people, and will increase from year to year."

J. J. Tigart, United States commissioner of education, was another witness who predicted extensive educational use of movies in the future. The fact that more children attend the movies now than are enrolled in the schools, he thought, proved that pictures were a more natural means of imparting information than text books and the spoken word.

SAYS PROSPERITY WILL CONTINUE

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 15.—Prosperity will be enjoyed "in spite of the receipts of dissonance on the tracks of industry," John R. Mauff, executive vice president of the Chicago Board of Trade told business men at the Illinois Grain Dealers convention here tonight.

"There are many bumps, sharp turns and rust in the paths of industry," he declared. "But thru it all * * * there shines out the indisputable fact that American business is fundamentally sound."

"The grain business," he said, "just passed thru a transition period."

"The exchange is functioning under government supervision," he said. "The agrarian groups have been granted all their demands. The government and the exchanges are co-operating heartily to carry out the letter of the law and maintain the high efficiency of the marketing machinery. There is every reason to anticipate success."

ENGLAND TO START NEGOTIATIONS WITH SOVIET GOVERNMENT

Curzon is Prepared to Enter Discussion at Once

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, May 15.—The outcome of the eagerly awaited Russian debate tonight in the house of commons was the announcement that there would be no immediate break between England and Russia but that negotiations would be started thru Leonid Krassin, who was in the gallery listening to the debate.

Donald McNeill, under secretary for foreign affairs announced on behalf of the government that Foreign Secretary Curzon was prepared to enter into discussions with M. Krassin.

Former prime minister Lloyd George said he thought the government had taken a wise decision.

J. Ramsey MacDonald, leader of the opposition opened the debate with a strong attack upon the government's policy in which he attributed all the troubles between England and Russia to the failure to recognize the soviet government. Asking the government to produce documentary proofs of its charges against the soviet and maintained that the Russian reply opened the way for a settlement thru an international conference.

Mr. McNeill, in reply, strongly repudiated the suggestion of hostile intentions toward Russia. He declared that the government might have made a casus belli of its grievances but that such an idea had never for a moment been entertained. The government did not desire to destroy the trading agreement between the two countries but simply to insure its proper observance.

These men, it is said, can supply the missing link in the chain of evidence that committee has been moulding, and the committee probably will not complete its labors until the men are found.

Gov. Len Small was prepared to testify today but his appearance was postponed until all other witnesses have been heard. He may testify tomorrow. The time of the meeting will depend upon whether the missing Herrin witnesses are found.

PEOPLES' VICTORY, GOVERNOR SAYS

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—"This is the people's victory," was Governor Small's comment on the sustaining of his veto of part of the Brundage appropriation by the house of representatives today.

"The house * * * by its act approved the action of the governor," a statement from his office said, and continued:

"I congratulate the people upon this action of the house, and especially those districts whose representatives stood loyally for the people and fearlessly voted for economy in spite of the intimidation and coercion of the Chicago Tribune and those public officials whom it controls."

"The house in sustaining the veto still leaves adequate funds to conduct the business of that office. As I stated in my veto message, the attorney general after the veto, still has $612,040 for his office."

"This has been a notable day in the history of Illinois because it has demonstrated that when the governor takes a stand in favor of economy the peoples' representatives will courageously sustain him."

FAILURE TO FIND WITNESSES HALTS HERRIN COMMITTEE

Sheriff Unable to Locate Former Herrin Policeman

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—The absence of two former policemen of Herrin investigation committee to wind up its session today.

The testimony these police officers may give to the committee, if they are brought here, may lay the basis for perjury indictments in the Sangamon county circuit.

Senator McCarthy said at the close of today's sessions of the committee which adjourned until tomorrow.

The names of the Herrin policemen were given to Sheriff Gailligan, in Springfield last Friday. On Monday he reported by telephone he was unable to get service on them because he didn't arrive in Herrin in time, but advised he would be here today. When they failed to appear, Chairman McCarthy attempted to reach the sheriff on the long distance telephone, but he was not to be found.

These men, it is said, can supply the missing link in the chain of evidence that committee has been moulding, and the committee probably will not complete its labors until the men are found.

Gov. Len Small was prepared to testify today but his appearance was postponed until all other witnesses have been heard. He may testify tomorrow. The time of the meeting will depend upon whether the missing Herrin witnesses are found.

The controversy over the telephone calls between Adjutant General Black and Colonel Samuel N. Hunter continued today. Miss Nellie Bagley, telephone operator at Murphysboro, testified she made out a ticket for a call at 11 p. m. on the night of June 21 last. General Black has testified he received a call at this hour from Colonel Hunter advising no troops would be needed. Colonel Hunter stated he made no such call. The ticket produced by Miss Bagley showed the call was made from Eddington's office in Marion. State's Attorney Delos Duty testified previously that Colonel Hunter called from his office at this hour. Attorneys for General Black, charged that the call may have been charged to Mr. Eddington's office though made over the state's attorney's telephone. All the calls by Colonel Hunter were kept at Marion and not at Murphysboro. Colonel Hunter stated and the call which is alleged to have been made by him at 11 p. m. on the night of the riots is the only one recorded at Murphysboro.

It was read into the record that Attorney T. E. Howe, of Chicago, representing General Black, on the state payroll as Judge Advocate General of the National Guard. An order of April 23, taking him from the retired list and placing him on active duty with salary and mileage was read into the record by Representative Michael Igoe at the request of J. Bernard Murphy of Bloomington, representing Colonel Hunter.

Senator William J. Sned of Herrin, sub-district president of the miners union testified as to rumors that money was paid some miners' officials to permit the operation of the Lester strip mine where the riots occurred in violation of the union rules. He said he had heard the rumor but was unable to verify it. He declared he had also heard Judge Hartwell of Marion, owned stock in the Lester company but the Judge, he said denied this.

A THOUGHT.

Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.—Prov. 20:13.

RAGS will always make their appearance where they have a right to do it.—Dr. Johnson.

Over 600,000 farm boys and girls were enrolled in agricultural extension clubs in 1922, trying for themselves, under the direction of extension workers, approved methods of crop and livestock production, farm and home management, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture. The products grown or made by these young farmers and home makers are valued at over $8,600,000.

THE FIRE TAX

The National Fire Protection Association announces that fire collects a national tax of approximately $1,000 a minute. Every year 15,000 lives and more than $500,000,000 are lost thru fires, 80 per cent of which might have been prevented. It is a heavy tax to pay for carelessness.

There is always a good deal of grumbling on the part of worthy citizens against the direct taxes they must pay local, state and federal governments. These citizens clamor, and rightly enough, for economy in government expenditures. But they forget all about the needless taxes they pay for their own carelessness. This so-called fire tax is only one of several.

More interest in fireproof buildings—both private residences and office and public buildings—with general insistence on proper heating and lighting systems and common sense caution in the storing or use of combustible articles, would serve to reduce at least one heavy tax burden now borne by the nation.

HIGHER LIMIT FOR IMMIGRANTS

The United States Chamber of Commerce suggests, in view of the "lack of flexibility" in the present 3 per cent immigrant restriction law, that "there should be added to the present quota a possible 2 per cent quota on the selective basis, which it is hoped would demonstrate the wisdom of ultimately placing the entire immigration upon a selective basis."

There is little difference of opinion regarding this new principle of selection, in admitting aliens to the United States. Nearly every person in public or private life who speaks or writes on the subject recommends careful selection of immigrants, to meet American standards and needs. Instead of the present basis which gauges applicants by number, not quality, it is legislative inertia rather than opposition which has prevented, so far, the enactment of a selective law. It is hoped that Congress will find time next winter to attend to the matter.

The raising of the quotas, however, is a different question. It is doubtful whether the public is ready to approve any increase in the percentage at present, even with assurance of careful selection.

PUBLIC REGULATION

President Julius Barnes of the United States Chamber of Commerce, addressing the eleventh convention of that great body of business men, speaks of the diminishing "tendency to rush to government ownership and operation."

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
BOK SAYS A BOOKFUL

By Berton Braley

(After reading The Biography of Edward Bok)

DON'T work with your eye on the clock,
Says Bok,
But keep on the job with vim.
Put something away in the sock,
Says Bok,
(He did it, and look at him!)

DON'T play with the frivolous flock,
Says Bok,
It's simply a waste of time,
But rise with the crow of the cock,
Says Bok,
For that is the way to climb.

BE solid and sure as a rock,
Says Bok,
Be steady and clam and sane,
The light-headed folks may mock,
Says Bok,
But all of their ways are vain.

ation, which has under trial elsewhere written its relative inefficiency and failure.

"There is a manifestly greater desire," he says, "to perfect the peculiarly American policy of regulation in the treatment of these great facilities, and a growing conviction that, in its own national interest, that regulation must be wise and generous."

These are true words, tho many radicals may find fault with them. Government ownership and operation is not popular in America because usually, when this policy has been tried, it has proved itself less efficient than private ownership and operation. America is above all, the land of individual initiative. Communism is for countries lacking such individualism.

Public utilities naturally require considerable public supervision, to make them fulfill their public functions on equal terms for everybody, and to keep them from developing into dangerous monopolies. This is especially true of the railroads. But ownership and actual operation are wisely left in private hands. To stimulate this private initiative, it is necessary, as President Barnes says, that "regulation must be wise and generous," and it has sometimes fallen far short of that.

AGED WHITE HALL MAN WAS BURIED TUESDAY

Funeral of Late A. H. Armstrong Held at Home in White Hall—Other News Items from Greene County Town.

White Hall, May 15.—Funeral services over the remains of Andrew H. Armstrong were held at 2 o'clock today in the home on Ayers street, conducted by Rev. L. E. Ellison, pastor of the First Baptist. The remains were taken to the Jones cemetery east of White Hall, for interment in the neighborhood where the deceased was born, and where he spent the greater part of the nearly 78 years of his life. He came to town about fifteen years ago, and the family home has since been where he died. Death was quite sudden. He was taken seriously ill about 8 o'clock Saturday, and he died twelve hours later. He had been a victim of heart trouble for a great many years. His wife is bedfast at this time, and she was not permitted to leave her bed to attend the funeral services. Their children are Frank, Benjamin and Charles, all of White Hall, and Mrs. Minerva Irwin Overby of Roodhouse. The deceased was a member of a family of patriots. Three brothers served in the civil war with Company I, 91st Illinois infantry, and all occupy graves in the Jones cemetery. The son, Charles, is a world war veteran, and he bears ugly scars as the victim of a shell shot.

Rev. J. O. Raines officiated at the re-dedication of a rural Baptist church, known as Blue Point in Effingham county, near Effingham, Sunday. It marked the fiftieth anniversary of the original dedication, and twelve present of the congregation last Sunday resided in the community fifty years. The church had been overhauled for the re-dedication. Rev. Raines remarked that he talked to one of two county recorders who were in attendance, representing two counties of the vicinity, and one of them stated that mortgages in effect represent more value than the properties would sell for at this time. The statement was carried further to show that automobiles are still being sold in large numbers.

Moves Drilling Outfit.
Jule Hubbard moved the well-drilling outfit to the L. L. Seely farm, in the vicinity of Dece Monday. He sank a 136 foot well at the residence of H. H. Griswold on North Main street.

The weekly weather and crop report of the White Hall station of the weather bureau is very encouraging, considering the adverse conditions of the week closing Monday. There was 0.86 inch of rain, and pastures and young clover are especially needing rain. The lowest temperature was 32 on the tenth, on which date there was a light frost that caused no permanent damage to tender vegetation. The highest reading was 51 on the 11th. The 9th and 10th were the dates that gave great concern, and all reports are to the effect that fruit was not damaged. Farm work is well along, being up to normal. Corn planting will be practically completed this week. The condition of winter wheat remains good to excellent. Some corn is up and in good condition. There was no storm damage on the 12th, when there was a rain fall of 0.37 inch, accompanied by severe lightning. The full effect of this storm was felt further north. Justice E. S. Barnard returned Sunday from a trip to Lincoln, Ill., and states that farm work in this vicinity is more than fifty per cent ahead of the section of the state visited by him. He had request for a sample of clay from this vicinity that he has sent to Lincoln for test with his compliments.

MAN KICKED BY FORD DISPLAYED COURAGE

R. J. Lair of Literberry Pulls Arm Back into Shape After Severe Fracture—Is Brought to Hospital Here, Where Bones are Set

A great many deeds of nerve and grit go unsung in this world of ours, on account of the fact that they are not performed before an audience, on battle fields or in the face of some great disaster, but which should be remembered, nevertheless.

Monday morning, about 10 o'clock, while cranking a Ford car, R. J. Lair of near Literberry suffered a kick which dislocated his right wrist, and caused a compound fracture of his right arm between the wrist and elbow, the arm turning at right angles at the break and the shattered bones protruding thru the flesh.

Mr. Lair realized that he would not be able to reach a doctor in a short time, and also realized that if the arm swelled in that position there would probably be serious complications in setting it, so he became his own temporary surgeon and, holding on to a post, succeeded in pulling the wrist back in place and also straightening the arm by this crude method.

He was first taken to Arcadia and not being able to receive immediate treatment there, he was brought to Our Savior's hospital, where the injury was dressed by Dr. Norris, and after all this pain and misfortune, Mr. Lair was on the square in the afternoon, witnessing the jubilee parade.

HOTEL NAMES

Still another name with its special appeal has been filed with the hotel executive committee, following out the committee's suggestion.

Mrs. Sarajane Matthews Brown believes that Illini would best fill this name need. In a letter to Secretary Welch of the chamber of commerce Mrs. Brown says: "May I suggest Illini as a possible name for the new hotel for Jacksonville. The name Illini is both dignified and euphonious. Besides, the literal translation is 'strong men,' and that is appropriate too."

Secretary Welch is in receipt of a communication on the same subject from a Jacksonville woman who signs herself "B. B. T. This suggestion reads as follows: "For some time I have had a name in mind for the new hotel and notice in the Journal one name that is similarly proposed by Dr. Stacy of Peoria.

"I suggest Hotel Jackson with the slogan beneath it 'The hotel that Jacksonville built.' The phrase has something of the sound of the similar line 'House that Jack built.' The wording that I have mentioned could be worked out on the hotel stationery effectively and for other good forms of publicity.

DAMAGE WILL RUN INTO MILLIONS IN ARKANSAS STORMS

Destruction of Buildings and Crops Thruout the State

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15.—Wind and rain storms in Arkansas yesterday and last night took toll in property damage which will run into the millions but reports reaching here tonight as wire communication gradually was being restored, probably without the loss of a single life.

Aside from the damage done at Hot Springs, where the storm brought a rushing flood and was accompanied by a destructive fire in the business district, reports of the destruction of buildings and crops are coming from all sections of the state.

Strawberry growers in north-eastern Arkansas say their loss is already $200,000 and will reach $500,000 if rainy weather continues another twenty-four hours. Cotton planters already have been hard hit by the necessity of replanting, some of them, twice. Truck and fruit growers also are taking a loss.

Concern is felt in many parts of the state by the imminence of floods and high water. In the oil fields flood warnings have been received along the Ouachita river and Smackover creek.

The damage done railway property and telephone and telegraph lines has been extensive. Wires were grounded in various parts of the state. More than 15,000 telephones in Little Rock and North Little Rock were out of commission today.

The loss in Little Rock includes the destruction of a school building, several homes, and many smaller buildings, while basements in every building in the business district were flooded. Goods were damaged in the lower floors of many retail stores.

Missouri Pacific railroad officials here tonight reported their tracks between Little Rock and Hot Springs in fair shape. Two trains left Hot Springs today, one at noon, and the other at 4 o'clock. One train arrived in the afternoon.

The Rock Island lost more than a thousand feet of track thru washouts near Lawrence, six miles from here. Other damage also was reported.

Crews clearing the streets of wreckage and debris were at work tonight.

While the flood reached a height of nine feet along Central Avenue, the famous "bath house row" on government reservation on the east side of the street was untouched. The streets slopes to the west there and it houses stand on terraces several feet above the side walks. The waters reached the porches of the bath houses, which today were crowded with spectators watching the work of rehabilitation.

Central avenue the main street of the city, bore the brunt of the flood.

Virtually all of the important downtown business buildings from the junction of Whittington and Park avenues and Cedar street down thru Central avenue were in the path of the rushing waters. All of the big business houses were in the district thru which the water poured.

ENGLISH ACTOR WEDS LEADING LADY

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 15.—The announced marriage of Pat Somerset, English actor, to his leading lady, Edith Day, at Greenwich, Conn., next Friday will be another act in a triangular love drama that has been in the public eye for some time. The third person is Carl Carleton, well known theatrical producer, who was married to Miss Day in 1919.

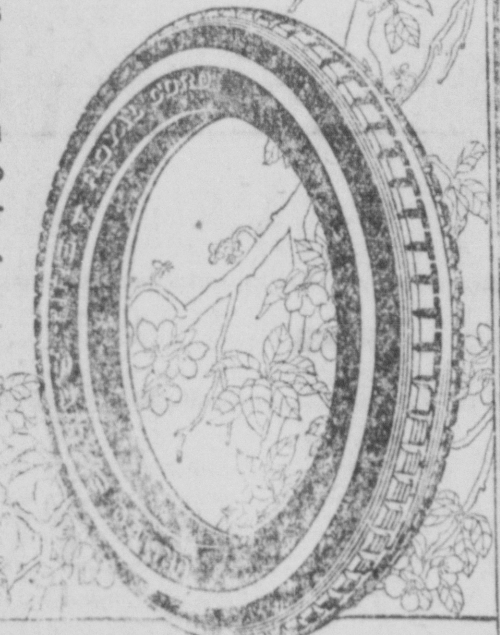

Carleton divorced his wife, Vera Sheffield, to marry Miss Day. Then Miss Day was named as co-respondent in a divorce suit against Pat Somerset. Later Carleton applied for a divorce, naming Somerset.

STORM DAMAGES ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Atlanta, Ga., May 15.—A sixty mile wind, accompanied by heavy rain, swept over Atlanta late today, doing considerable damage in the business district where it shattered plate glass windows, tore down signs and swept a section of the roof from the Austell office building into Forsythe street, where it narrowly missed several persons. Shade trees were uprooted and houses unroofed in the residence sections in the eastern outskirts. No casualties were reported.

GREEK PERFECTION IN ART

Infinite Labor and Patience Expended on Even the Most Insignificant Coins and Gems.

The delicacy and minuteness of Greek work is of course most obvious in the reliefs of coins and gems. The coins were not primarily meant to please the eye, but to circulate in the fish-market; yet a multitude of the dies are so exquisitely finished that they lose little when magnified to many diameters, and will bear the most critical examination. The intaglio gems were meant for the sealing of documents, the seal taking the place of the modern signature; but the figures upon seals are in their way as finished as great works of sculpture. Seals even more usually than coins gain rather than lose if they are enlarged. Yet they were executed without the help of magnifying glasses. Their subjects are taken from the widest field, the figures of deities, tales from mythology, portraits, animal forms; like the coins they introduced as an undercurrent to the prosaic life of every day an element of poetry and imagination.—Percy Gardner, in "The Lamps of Greek Art."

FRED E. STERLING MAKES REPLY TO BRUNDAGE SUITS

Says He Had No Knowledge of Interest That Banks Received

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 15.—An itemized statement of all interest money collected and turned in to the state treasury by Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling when he was state treasurer, was filed in the Sangamon county circuit court today by Mr. Sterling as his answer to the suit brought by Attorney General Brundage for an accounting of state funds.

Mr. Sterling's answer is in the form of a printed book comprising 150 pages containing complete statement by months of interest money collected and from whom it was collected. The total amount of interest turned in the answer shows was $996,759.35. Of this amount $336,992.69 was earned on money deposited in the Grant Park bank which is alleged by the attorney general's bill to have been a fictitious institution.

The answer avers that the deposit in the Grant Park bank, which Mr. Sterling found and accepted when he took office in 1919, was of no different kind than any other deposit which he made in hundreds of banks throughout the state. Its deposits, he declares, were secured by collateral which was subject to the same examination and approval as any other deposits in banks of the state and it was a banking institution of long standing, carried on the records of the state auditor as "a legitimate and proper banking institution." During his term, the answer reveals, Mr. Sterling increased the number of banking depositories throughout the state from 125 to over 370 and never refused a request from a single bank in the state where the bank had safe collateral to offer as security.

The answer further avers that it was a matter of common knowledge acquiesced in by the public generally, that when public money is deposited in banking institutions it is deposited for the specific purpose of having it released to the public and so kept in general circulation for business purposes.

Among other collateral deposited with him as security for deposits in the Grant Park Bank, were certain notes of Armour & Company and Swift & Company, but Mr. Sterling says he had no knowledge of the rate of interest paid on those notes and only looked upon them in the same light as other notes deposited with him as collateral.

Further answering, Mr. Sterling denies any knowledge of any connection between Edward C. Curtis in his lifetime, or Verne S. Curtis and the Swift and Armour companies and specially denies any knowledge of the information sought to be discovered by the bill for accounting.

Washington, May 15.—The department of justice has taken up anew the harvest trust case to determine whether there should be future action toward dissolution of the International Harvester Company and further unscrambling of its subsidiaries. Officials said today that no program of action had been determined upon as yet.

INDIA'S SACRED RIVER.

The Ganges is the sacred river of the Hindus. On its banks are many temples and holy places such as Benares, Allahabad, Hardwar and Gangotri. According to the legend Princess Ganga, a Hindu goddess, of long ago, turned herself into this great river, that she might enrich and purify the country. Devout Hindus bathe themselves in its sacred waters and pray to the deity. It is their desire that their bodies may be burned upon its waters and allowed to float on down to the sea. The length of the main stream of the Ganges is 1,557 miles, and its every bend is sacred. Pilgrims walk from its source and back again, taking six months or more for the pilgrimage. Before the Juggernaut car which rolled in the procession along its banks, fanatics used to throw themselves, to be crushed to death amid the applause of the worshippers. This is now forbidden by law as is also the burning of widows on the funeral pyre of their husbands, and the casting of babies into the sacred river.

Hudson's Bay Company.

The Hudson's Bay company, incorporated in 1670, connects, by uninterrupted lineage, the North American wilds of the moving picture set with the stern realities of an earlier day. The first records of this staunch example of British empire contain the following notation of a shipment made to the company's posts shortly after the earliest expedition to Canada in 1608:

Two hundred fowling pieces with powder and shot.

Two hundred copper kettles.

Twelve gross knives.

One thousand hatchets.

The copper kettles used today in these northernmost outposts of civilization are practically identical in design with those of two centuries or more ago.

If the company was possible he waited for the second ring. If he found himself among kindred spirits, the calls were in regard to matters that his secretary could bring to a happy conclusion.

MANNERS AND THE 'PHONE

According to This Writer, the Instrument Is Responsible for a Number of Delinquencies.

J. M. Keyes opened a topic of wide interest when he proposed a code of telephone manners.

This is nothing less than a yearning for perfection. It cannot be achieved, and before telephone manners in their present state are condemned it is best to consider social advantages which the telephone offers.

The invitation nuisance which stirs Mr. Keyes to the depths of his being is not so unbearable as the nuisance which brings his invitations with him and sits down to argue with you about it. The one who wants to know why you can not come when you tell him that you cannot is very difficult to get rid of. On the other hand, it is exceedingly easy to say: "Well, goodbye," and hang up at the first opportune pause. Moreover, the telephone is a great encourager of those who are timid in their living. One can look into the little black hole where the transmitter is and tell any sort of whopper, when the words would die on his lips if he were faced by an inquisitor. Furthermore, a man who is well and hearty can safely say that he is suffering agonies with headache when the other party to the conversation cannot see him.

As for the difficulty of thinking up the proper fib for each occasion which afflicts, that is nothing at all in the life of the expert telephone liar. He has a list of them for unexpected invitations and they are as handy as canned sardines for the unexpected guest.—Detroit Free Press.

FIRST OF GREAT SEAMEN

Vikings May Be Said to Have Possessed Truly Uncanny Knowledge of the Ocean.

The Vikings were not only great warriors, but they were equally distinguished as maritime explorers. They were so vigorous in their activities, so dauntless and daring, that they were bound to do great things, or fail where none could have succeeded," said E. Kibbe Chatterton, in "Ships and Ways of Other Days." And Doctor Nansen reminds one that "they had neither compass nor astronomical instruments, nor any appliances of our time for finding their position at sea; they could only sail by the sun, moon and stars and it seems incomprehensible how for days and weeks, when those were invisible, they were able to find their course through fog and bad weather. But they found it, and the open craft of the Norwegian Vikings, with their square sails, fared north and west over the whole ocean. It was not till 500 years later that the ships of other nations were to make their way to the same regions."

Milton Writing Lycidas

Lycidas came to Milton's imagination or at least to paper, in a very perfect form. He writes the first lines, and then tries the flower passage, which was evidently haunting his thought. He sets it down once, crosses it all out, and then begins over again. Line 143 was nearer inspiration as first written: "The muske rose and the garish columbine"; but perhaps it does not express his feelings for the flower, or it did not sound appropriate to have so gaudy a flower about the dead. Ruskin calls 148 "mixed fancy and imagination"; the first version "every bud that sorrows livelier wearers" is also mixed, but perhaps less objectionable than the form we are familiar with. After the flower passage is to his mind, he takes a fresh sheet, and, commencing a poem once more, writes to the end with very little recasting, except at 58-62, which he thrice revises. Save for these two difficult parts, Milton seems to have written Lycidas with little premeditation, and hence with ease.—Laura E. Lockwood, in "Modern Language Notes."

Palms Two Centuries Old

Set out by the Jesuit missionaries in 1720, thousands of date palms in Lower California are still producing quantities of high-class fruit, approximately 2 1/4 million pounds being shipped to all parts of Mexico each year. Small groves of date palms may also be found in many communities of the state of Sonora, where water is available, at Guaymas there being an old date palm tree that has produced as high as 1,000 pounds of dates in one season.

Most of the Mexican date crops are handled by Chinese merchants and the bulk is shipped to points in Sonora and Sinaloa.

A Windmill Home

A century-old windmill of the kind commonly seen in European countries, having four large sweeps, or sails, and an outside covering of shingles, has been remodeled into a three-story home at Lomstrup, Jutland, in Denmark. After the huge grinding stones and shafts were removed from the interior, the three floors were divided into comfortable rooms, having dormer-type windows. Nine persons are accommodated in the rebuilt structure, from which a beautiful view is to be seen.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

MANY MARCH IN JUBILEE PARADE

Over Two Thousand in Line of March Tuesday Afternoon—Rain Marred Event

About 2,000 marched in the big jubilee parade yesterday afternoon in one of the most impressive parades ever held in this city. As the procession was nearing the end of its route, the rain descended in torrents, but few marchers left the line, and the three hundred school children considered it a big lark.

Headed by marshals, police and the community band, the parade extended for several blocks thru the business district. The line moved west on State street as the main artery of its route. Upon reaching Church street, it turned north and west again on Court street to Fayette street, where it returned to the original route and returned to the square.

Practically the entire congregation of the Church of Our Saviour was in the line of march. Rev. F. F. Formax was driven thru the streets in an auto, surrounded by a guard of honor on foot. Students of Rount college wore blue and white caps. They were followed by the Catholic men of the congregation.

WISCONSIN TEAMS TO INVADE ILLINOIS

URBANA, Ill.—Badger baseball and track men are coming to Illinois this week end and it is evidently going to take all the skill and brawn that the Illinois can muster to repulse the invaders.

Encountering Wisconsin's track squad on Friday and its baseball team on Saturday, Illinois' local athletic season closes. Harry Gill's track outfit, inspired by its victory over the strong Michigan aggregation, will win the dual meet championship of the conference by a triumph over the visitors.

When Coach Gill led a squad to Ann Arbor that decisively overcame the Wolverines, it was the greatest upset in track history for years. Michigan was all odds and favorite. Yet the Illinois took eight firsts out of fifteen.

Wisconsin, led by Charles Spetz, sprinter, has a well-rounded team which has defeated Minnesota and Chicago. Illinois rules a favorite but the contest is expected to be close.

Wisconsin's baseball team made the Illinois stage a ninth inning rally to win at Madison and Lundgren's lads will have to play in top form to claim a victory. Cliff Jackson will probably pitch and it will be his last appearance of the veteran on Illinois field. Capt. Stewart, Dougherty, Vogel, Hollstrom and Kuehl will also play their valedictory games.

With the interscholastic crowd are likely to go by the board. The high school vanguards will come Thursday night to get ready for the preliminaries which will be held on Friday afternoon along with the Notre Dame ball game and the Wisconsin meet.

RICKARD MOVES TO MAKE MATCH

NEW YORK, May 15.—The preliminary move toward another contest for the world's heavyweight championship was made today by Tex Rickard, promoter, in the signing of Jess Willard, former title holder and Louis Firpo, Argentine giant, for a contest to be held in New York or vicinity not later than July 7.

The winner of the engagement will be matched with Jack Dempsey in a title contest, which probably will be held next Labor Day.

Rickard declined to reveal the terms for the Firpo-Willard match except that they will fight on a percentage basis. Experts however, figure that the bout will draw a gate of at least half a million dollars and that the share of each principal would be at least $100,000.

The contest will be staged either at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City or the Yankee Stadium. The Yankees will occupy their park on both June 30, the original date suggested for the match, and July 4, but will be away on July 7. The attitude of the state athletic commission towards Willard also may have a bearing on whether the bout is staged here. William Muldoon, chairman of the commission and author of the ruling preventing men over 38 years of age from appearing in a boxing contest in this state allowed Willard to meet Floyd Johnson last Saturday because the affair was for charity.

It was believed, however, that the age ruling would be set aside by the commission in view of Willard's victory over Johnson a man half his age.

BOSTON, May 15.—St. Louis slugged the delivery of McNamara for six runs in the fourth inning today and defeated Boston 10 to 5. The game was held up for 15 minutes on account of rain and part of it was played in a drizzle. Bottomley made three triples and Freigan's fielding was brilliant.

HERD LEADS GOLFERS IN HOLE-IN-ONE CLUB
Pitching a no-hit ball game is the goal of every pitcher. There is a thrill in such a performance that goes with nothing else in baseball. Playing a hole-in-one in golf is on a par with pitching a no-hit game as far as thrills are concerned. Any golfer will tell you that nothing compares with getting a long ball from the tee, and upon reaching the green discover that the ball has obligingly rolled into the cup. Many of the game's greatest golf professionals have never experienced the thrill of holing out in one. Likewise many of the star pitchers of the majors have failed to break into the no-hit class. Perhaps no golfer in the history of the sport has a record that can compare with that of Sandy Herd, the former British open champion, in this respect. On 17 different occasions during his long career on the links, Herd has enjoyed the thrill of holing out in one. "An accurate ball from the tee plus plenty of good luck is the way to do it," explains Herd.

VEACH ON MARKET IS LATEST REPORT ON VETERAN STAR
DETROIT.—Is Detroit planning to make a trade that will send Bob Veach to some other club? Reports from the south have it that Veach is in disfavor with the Tyger management. Seldom is a veteran benched during training season, yet that has happened to Veach. While Veach is far from a finished fielder, and has the habit of throwing the ball to the wrong base, he certainly can hit the old apple. As a matter of fact, Veach is one of the few old-time sluggers left. He takes a healthy swing at every ball regardless of whether it is a fast or slow one. No doubt a number of American League clubs would be willing to take a chance on Veach. If the Tygers decide to place him on the market Cobb should be able to get some player or players worthwhile in return.

AMERICAN GOLFERS ARE AT ST. ANDREWS
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 15.—All the American contestants, Walker cup golfers with the exception of Francis Ouimet arrived here today and within an hour were busily practicing over the old course, in preparation for the opening of the cup competition on Friday.

The Americans commented upon the generous width of the St. Andrews fairways. The huge greens troubled them a good deal for in some cases they found it difficult to decide whether a pitch shot or a long run-up over the wide expanse of green would be the more profitable.

CLEVELAND BEATS WASHINGTON 10 TO 9

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 15.—Cleveland twice came from behind today to defeat Washington 10 to 9, in ten innings. The game was loosely played on both sides. Wamby, Cleveland's second baseman, had the unique record of making three errors in one inning. Metevier and Zachary, who finished the game pitched the best ball.

RIP COLLINS HELPS YANKS TO VICTORY
DETROIT, May 15.—Rip Collins wild-pitched Detroit to defeat today giving New York a 9 to 5 victory and three out of four games of the series. Ruth's home run was his fourth of the season, while Hellman's two doubles brought to 21 the number of consecutive games in which he has hit safely.

WILL ATTEND ASSEMBLY

FAMOUS PITCHERS THINK WADDELL'S STRIKE-OUT RECORD WILL STAND

(By NEA Service)
NEW YORK.—The modern strike-out record for a nine-inning game is 16, held by the late George Edward Waddell, otherwise known as "Rube."

Back in 1884, Ramsey, pitching for Providence in the National League, whiffed 19, but conditions were quite different then.

Waddell made his strike-out record as a member of the St. Louis club, at a time when the "Rube" was regarded as well nigh through. Connie Mack, tired of Waddell, passed him on to Jimmy McAleer at St. Louis.

Shortly afterward the Rube took deep dark revenge at the expense of the Athletics. Sent against his old teammates, Waddell struck out 16, establishing a modern whiff record for nine innings.

No pitcher in recent years has had so many chances to break that record as Walter Johnson. Had the Washington star been a pitcher who sought the limelight he probably would have turned the trick. With Johnson, however, winning the ball game always meant more than an individual record.

There are two records which baseball players think will stand for a long time. One of them is Babe Ruth's 59 home runs, the other Waddell's 16 strike outs. "With the lively ball now in use, to thing of striking out 16 or more players is a joke," says Walter Johnson.

"In these days six strike outs is out of the ordinary," says Grover Cleveland Alexander.

"The lively ball and no freak pitching makes Waddell's record safe for some time," opines Ed Walsh.

DEMPSEY PUNCHING BAGS ON THE WAY

LEONARD TO MEET MICKEY WALKER

CHICAGO, May 15.—A ten round contest between champions of two divisions—Benny Leonard, lightweight boss, and Mickey Walker, welterweight title holder—probably will be staged here next month, it was announced tonight.

The promoters plan to hold the match in one of the major league parks and figure on a 50,000 seating capacity.

Leonard went out of his division a year ago to box Jack Britton, then welterweight champion losing on a foul.

HOW THE VANDERBILTS WON

The Vanderbilts obtained their first secure foothold in New York's leading society by a great fancy dress ball given by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt in her beautiful Fifth Avenue house on the evening of March 28, 1883. It surpassed in splendor, in beauty, in brilliancy, and in luxurious and lavish expense any scene before witnessed in New York. But two or three of the leaders of New York society, notably Mrs. William Astor, had never called upon any of the ladies of the Vanderbilt family.

According to the generally accepted story, soon after the announcement of the forthcoming ball, but before the formal invitations had been issued, Miss Carrie Astor, the only unmarried daughter of Mrs. William Astor, organized a fancy dress quadrille to be danced at the ball by several young ladies and gentlemen, it being taken for granted by the Astors that, as leaders of society, they would, of course, be invited. Mrs. Vanderbilt heard of this, and stated in the hearing of some friends that she could not invite Miss Astor to her ball, as her mother had never called upon her. This reached Mrs. Astor's ears, and soon after she called upon Mrs. Vanderbilt. She and her daughter were invited to the Vanderbilt ball. Thus did the ball break the last barrier down and the Vanderbilt family was firmly established among New York's social leaders.

CARRY WEALTH WITH THEM

East Indians Convert Savings into Jewels With Which Their Clothing Is Lavishly Decorated.

The city of Darjeeling, on the border between northeastern India and south Tibet, is a great market place for a wide countryside, where the westerner in the person of the English comes in contact with Tibet, Bhootia and Nepal.

Except for some savage or semi-savage peoples there is nowhere else, perhaps, such a lavish and widespread display of barbaric jewelry on the person as one sees in Darjeeling. As is the habit of all Indians—indeed, of most Asiatics—the bulk of the natives' wealth, converted into jewelry, is carried about. Every Sunday morning in the little stone-paved market-place of Darjeeling congregates a human medley, a clothing exhibition, an outlay of second-hand desiderata, a jewelry bazaar. There is the tarboosh of the Hindu, the plaited straw of the laborer on the plantations, the fur-trimmed cloth cap or the Tibetan mountaineer; face types that grade all the way from South Indian Tamil swarthy to the Parsee and the high caste Indian Brahmin; from the "Caucasian lineaments" to the pure Chinese, says a writer in the Christian Science Monitor.

How to Make Shoes Last Longer.

The soles of shoes can be made to last much longer if ordinary varnish is applied to them. When the shoes are new, or have just been resoled, apply the varnish to the soles. Allow an interval for drying, and then give them a second coat. When this has become hard give them still another coat. The whole operation will not take very long, as varnish dries more quickly on leather than it does on wood. Be quite sure that the varnish is set before attempting to wear the shoes. After a few days the varnish will wear in certain places on the soles, so that it will pay to touch these spots up again and leave them overnight. The application of varnish has the additional advantage of making leather absolutely waterproof. For this reason it is a good plan when putting on the varnish to put a little on the part where the upper joins the sole.

First "Woman's Rights" Exponent.

Saint Birgitta, the only marked personality of Roman Catholic Sweden (before the Reformation) known to the popes, is said to have been the first apostle of "woman's rights" the world has known. She pleaded for "mixed orders" and "mixed convents" to insure the frank and practical co-operation of men and women, monks and nuns, in aiding suffering humanity. Her canonization, however, was due more to the merit of her pilgrimages to Rome and Jerusalem and to her services in bringing about the return of the popes from Avignon to Rome than to her pious and charitable endeavors, or to the example of ardent faith which endeared her to her countrywomen, and by which she was better known in her own country.

Language on Simple Basis. The Chinese language is based on simple monosyllables, each one a complete word. The number varies from about 900 in Cantonese to about 400 in the Peking dialect, the so-called Mandarin Chinese.

These two dialects mark the two extremes of Chinese speech. Cantonese being considered the most representative of native development, while the dialect of Peking has been modified by the Manchurian conquerors who were originally of Ural-Altaic or Finnish stock. Yet with all the modifications that it has undergone it still preserves its distinctive Chinese character.

BUSH FIRST MANAGER TO BE CHASED FROM GAME

Washington—Donie Bush, newest of the major league managers, enjoys the distinction, if it may be so classed, of being the first manager to be chased. In the second game of the recent series with Philadelphia, which ended in a 10 to 10, twelve-inning tie, Bush was given the air. It so happens that Empire Holmes, one of President Johnson's new arbitrators, pointed the way to the exit.

It all happened in the twelfth inning over one called ball, with two out, a runner on second and Washington trailing by a run, the Athletics having scored in the first half.

With Goslin up and the count three balls and no strikes, Empire Holmes called the next pitch a strike. Goslin thought it was high and kicked. The moment he protested, Manager Bush, who was coaching at third, rushed to the plate.

Umpire Holmes kept him going to the club house. Failure to call the pitch a ball, which would have walked Goslin, proved a good break for Washington, as he hit the next pitch for a long fly to center field which was muffed, sending the tying run over the plate.

20 WENT TO CONCORD AND CHAPIN TUESDAY

Were Greeted With Full Houses at Community Meetings—High School and Woman's College Students Furnished Entertainment.

In spite of the bad weather and bad roads, twenty Jacksonville people in three autos made the trip to Concord and Chapin Tuesday evening to hold meetings in the interest of community cooperation. Fred High made addresses at both places, and was greeted each time with a full house.

The high school male quartet, consisting of Russell Deatherage, Ralph Corbridge, Harry Stone and John Morris, accompanied the delegation and aided in furnishing the entertainment. The Misses Mary Louise Clark and Marie Luke, and Miss Brown of the Illinois Woman's college furnished the principal part of the musical program.

One car was furnished by the Olson Bus Co. Others were driven by Otto Spieth and Dr. A. B. Applebee. Al Chapin Mayor Thompson presided, and at Concord the chairman of the meeting was Mr. Glinder.

FR. FORMAZ HONORED AT BANQUET EVENT

Clergy and Laity Joined in Observance of Anniversary at Dinner—Pastor in Informal Address Expressed Appreciation and Voiced His Ideals—Notable Program of Toasts

That was indeed a great as-semble. The assembly room was semblage at the Auto Inn Tuesday night when hundreds of the members of the parish of the Church of Our Saviour and other citizens of Jacksonville gathered to honor the Rev. Dean F. F. Formaz, rector of the Church of Our Saviour. The banquet was given in honor of the 25th anniversary of Father Formaz as a priest and in further commemoration of the 70th anniversary of the church he is now serving.

The Auto Inn was chosen as the place for the banquet because a spacious auditorium was necessary for so large a gathering. The members of the Catholic Ladies' Aid society served the dinner, for which elaborate preparations had been made. It was a dinner of many courses and the service could not have been improved.

As the dinner was served music was furnished by Large's orchestra. The assembly room was decorated with flags and the tables were beautified with flowers. After the dinner Father Thomas E. Cusack of Carrollton presided as toastmaster and in a fitting way introduced each one of the group of eloquent speakers.

The toast master said that he had never before served in such a capacity but certainly he had the class of one thoroughly experienced in this quite difficult art. Although the name of Father Formaz did not appear upon the program of toasts, Father Cusack said that he could not bring the exercises to a close without presenting to the audience the central figure of the gathering—Father Formaz.

The toastmaster refrained from any word of eulogy because he knew that any other course would be very distasteful to Father Formaz. The Jacksonville priest spoke briefly but directly, making plain his appreciation of the honor done him and his recognition that the growth of the church here has not been especially because of his labors but because of the union of effort between pastor and people.

Father Formaz spoke in part: "There are occasions in a man's life when he can openly and fearlessly feel that he can be congratulated and this is in truth one of them, as it applies to myself. I can say truthfully that I have never sought at any time any recognition for my labor here and have not looked for earthly reward.

"My only boast has been that I have done the right as I have seen it, and I can say with all sincerity that I owe no man anything that I have sought no favors at any time from any man and have acted independent of every influence except that of duty. The purpose to follow the path of duty has been my constant guide.

"In the years that have passed there has been continued toil, continued effort and the church has grown in strength because we are one—you and I working together for the same ends. I see men here who as boys when I first came to the parish I sought to lead along the paths of truth and into religious life.

"As we look on conditions today, we can remember that 75 years ago things were very different. It is a far cry from those early days when the Catholics here had need to be ashamed because of their very fewness in numbers. In those days there was not a Catholic in business here or even employed in a business establishment, and you know the change that has come about. This was not wrought by human help but came to pass thru divine guidance.

The Faithful Spirit

"I do not claim that I have been very largely instrumental in that change, for 23 years ago when I came here the change was in process and the spirit of the church has prevailed. There has been a test of loyalty and you have met the duties whether disagreeable or not, and the spirit of faithfulness has remained. So let us continue in faith and loyalty and earnestness of spirit.

"I cannot close without expressing my great appreciation that so many have gathered here, many of them at great inconvenience to themselves and I pray that God's blessing may go with us all, all the way."

Father Cusack in introducing the program referred to the fact that he had been present 20 years ago when the 50th anniversary of the parish was observed, and he compared the conditions of the earlier days with those of the present.

The Athens of the West.

At this point the orchestra played another selection and the toast master took occasion to mention what a large place in the evening's program the orchestra was supplying.

Fr. Andrew Smith introduced as from the plains of Franklin, responded to the sentiment "The Athens of the West." In a very witty way Fr. Smith drew an analogy between the Athens of ancient Greece and Jacksonville of today.

He referred to some of the qualities of the Athenians, their loyalty and culture and patriotism and found those characteristics reflected in the spirit of Jacksonville today. Although quite complimentary Fr. Smith with an occasional flash of wit touched weak spots here and there, suggesting ways in which there might be improvement even in this the Athens of the West.

Reference was made to the war governor, Richard Yates, and to his son Congressman Richard Yates, and to William J. Bryan. As especially indicative of the spirit the speaker told of the founding of the Woman's college and of the several state institutions here. He said that these institutions would have been located in other cities had it not been that the early residents of Jacksonville saw through them the opportunity for service.

Then he told of the splendid work done by Passavant and Our Saviour's hospitals and concluded with reference to the twenty-three years of service Fr. Formaz has given in urging upon his parishioners the thought of seeking after virtue and shunning vice.

The theme assigned to Fr. Smith is not new, but it was certainly handled in a new way and applause and laughter followed in continuous order.

The toastmaster again recalled the celebration of twenty years ago and said that Terrence Brennan sang on that occasion. He said that "Father O'Flynn" made a great impression upon him at that time and he was especially glad that Mr. Brennan was to sing it on this occasion again. The soloist was introduced with the statement that through all the years he had generously given of his talents. Mr. Brennan was in fine voice and the solo was enthusiastically received.

Youth and Age.

The next speaker, who had the theme "The Church of Our Saviour," was Fr. William M. Cosello of New Berlin, whose wife passed none of his brethren of the cloth. He made reference to some of the earlier history of the parish and said that there is advantage in a parish of this size for it is free from some of the difficulties that beset the pathway of the priest in the smaller parish. "There is an opportunity to wear out here rather than rust out, for the duties are many as the priest gives the best care he can to his parishioners all the way from the cradle to the grave. Your church here is old in years and service, and your pastor is young. These conditions but symbolize the church as a whole and we admire the glories of the church as it is

Roy Anderson, Chinese-born American, who is acting as agent between the various governmental representatives and the Chinese brigands who wrecked a train and are holding tourists for ransom.

repeated in this parish. So we salute you, and wish many happy returns of the day to both pastor and people."

Fr. A. J. Burns was unable to be present to respond to the theme, "The Silver Jubilee," and as mentioned above the toastmaster introduced in closing Fr. Formaz in whose honor the banquet had been arranged. After the address of Fr. Formaz the program closed with the singing of "America."

It was an occasion in which only good feeling prevailed and the expressions of good will to Fr. Formaz were without stint.

To prepare for such a huge company at dinner was a mighty task, but it was well performed and the results justified the work done through the co-operative effort of so many men and women of the Church of Our Saviour.

He referred to Father Formaz as the priestly pastor of the Church of Our Saviour and then spoke of the many congratulatory telegrams and letters that have been received in recent days.

Messages Read

He read a message from the supreme pontiff, Pope Pius the 11th, which said, "The Holy Father sends his blessings on the occasion of your silver jubilee and upon the occasion of the 70th anniversary of the church."

Cardinal Gaspardi, Papal Secretary of State.

A telegram was also read from the bishop of the Alton diocese in which the bishop sent his best wishes and expressed his great regret that it was impossible for him to be present.

A letter was also read from Bishop Thomas Sheehan, rector of the Catholic University of America at Washington, who made reference to the student days of Father Formaz at the university. Another letter was read from State Auditor Andrew Russell, expressing his appreciation of the work done by Father Formaz and his own regret in being unable to attend.

The toast master said that these and other messages but served to emphasize how large a place Father Formaz had come to occupy in the hearts of others.

Nation Needs Religion

The sentiment of "Our Country" was assigned to Father William T. Sloan, formerly of Jacksonville and now temporarily located at Granite City. The speaker made eloquent reference to the history of this nation and emphasized the thought that our greatest pride in the United States has been the fact that this country has flung aside the monarchical and dictatorial types of government of the old world and has built a nation on the equality of man. He said that this country has solved the difficulties—the differences in race and creed in a way that has bewildered some of the old world countries. The policy of brotherly love as followed here, he said, has been the basis of growth and development.

"There are spots where conditions are bad but reforms are in progress," Father Sloan said that reforms to be effective must not come thru legislation but thru the individual. He said that where the right conditions do not prevail in this country it is because of the failure to reckon with God, and went on to say that religion is the need of the country just as it is the need of the individual. The difficulties between rich and poor and other differences that man must be settled, he said, in the shadow of the cross.

The Clergy's Place

The next speaker was Father Christopher S. Bell of Morrisville, who had as his theme "The Clergy." The speaker said that the clergy are at once the most beloved and most despised of mankind. Then in somewhat facetious vein he summed up the arguments for and against the clergy, answering the criticisms that members of the clergy are non-producers, are leeches upon society and interfere with the wheels of progress.

Naturally in such an argument Father Bell found the weight of the argument abundantly proved that the place of the clergy is definite and that a priest who measures up to duty must live a self-sacrificing life of continuous daily toil, as he seeks to rescue men from trouble and to point the way to righteousness."

Miss Alice Alexander was among the shoppers from Arenzville Tuesday.

LEGION PREPARES TO ADVERTISE JUBILEE

Will Issue Outlying Posts with Invitations to Attend Ceremonies on June 15—Held Good Meeting Last Night

The American Legion held their bi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening in American Legion hall. In perfecting plans for the observance of Memorial Day, it was decided to notify all ex-service men of the details by letter, and to also extend an invitation to all nearby posts to join in the observance of that day.

The Legion also decided to back the ex-service men's team in the two-light baseball league, by putting an organized team in the field next Monday evening.

Announcement has been made that the Service Star Legion will operate a booth on the square on June 15th, at the time of the dedication ceremonies in connection with the opening of the new building. All members of the Legion will be requested to register at this booth, giving name, name of outfit in which they served, their present address, and the number of the post to which they belong. A handsome wreath will be given to the post registering the most members on that day before 11 a. m. A duplicate prize will also be given to the post registering the largest percentage of total membership. The booth will also be used as an information, and get-together center, where the vets can go to look up their buddies. Every ex-service man registering will be presented with a badge commemorating the dedication, and all men with badges will be tendered a banquet, free of charge on the grounds of the State Hospital.

The Legion will start its personal invitations to the different posts by visit, accompanied with a varied high class entertainment, beginning tonight. Advertising by handbills and posters will be pushed this week and next, and, as this event is meeting with very hearty co-operation thruout the state, it is expected that a crowd of thirty-five or forty thousand visitors will be in Jacksonville on that day. The famous 40-8 band of Bloomington will be here to lead the parade on that day. This is probably the finest ex-service men's band in the United States, having won thousands of dollars and numerous medals at different National conventions of the Legion.

It was also arranged during the evening to send a delegation and firing squad to Arcadia for services, following the Jacksonville services on Memorial Day.

At the close of the business meeting, the D. O. K. K. string sextet, composed of Roy Sandburg, Leo Suiter, Carl Sandburg, Mike Simms, Clyde Landreth and Albert Bray, rendered a program of popular songs and music which was greatly appreciated and loudly applauded.

The meeting closed with "Come and get it," ice cream and cake being served, with no limit on "seconds," and no "K. P." duty for overcasting.

MISS MARIAN CAPPS GETS NEW POSITION

In a recent issue, the Alton Daily Times had the following to say of Miss Marian Capps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Capps, 252 Park avenue of this city:

"The county board yesterday elected Miss Marian Capps, executive secretary of the Red Cross as overseer of the poor for Alton, over Joe Herman, by a vote of 24 to 23."

"Miss Capps as secretary of the Red Cross, draws a salary of $150 per month. She will perform the additional duties without any additional pay and the $75 per month salary paid to the overseer of the poor by the county will reduce by $900 per year the amount that Alton's philanthropic citizens will have to contribute."

In the county court yesterday Judge H. P. Samuel assessed a fine of $500 and costs and gave a 90 day jail sentence to Walter Haxton, charged with violation of liquor laws. The court allowed 90 days for the perfecting of an appeal to the appellate court.

John Haxton, who was convicted jointly with his brother, was placed on probation under the care of George L. Riggs and is to report at stated periods during the current year.

The order was made by the court after the state's attorney had dismissed the first count of the indictment against the defendant and the judgment was entered on the second count.

Dr. C. Ellsworth Black, Edward F. Rowe and T. O. Hardesty attended the meeting of the Illinois Medical association at Decatur Tuesday.

The committee in charge of the ticket sale has guaranteed to sell enough admissions to the matinee races to pay the difference between the cost of the barn which the board of the fair association had authorized, and the one which they considered adequate. The barn being constructed will cost about $1,200, and the barn which the board could have provided would have cost about $500.

WHITE HALL PASTOR GOES TO NEW FIELD

Rev. Charles M. Ross to Take Up Work at Newman, Ill.—
Other News Notes from White Hall

White Hall, May 14.—Sunday concluded the pastoral connection of Rev. Charles M. Ross with the Christian church in this city, and he leaves this week for Newman,

Ill., to take up the duties there.
Rev. Ross would have attained his second year here in September next, and he has done conscientious and painstaking service. For some time past the work has been telling upon him in the condition of his health, which has precluded aggressiveness that characterized the earlier months of his pastorate here. His wife has gone to Fairbury, Ill., on account of the dangerous illness of her mother.

Mother's Day was observed by all the local churches in an impressive manner. Arrangements were made for the transportation and comfort of the aged church members, and reports show large congregations at all services.
Flowers were provided all comers not otherwise decorated, this being especially the case in connection with the services in Princess theatre at the morning hour. The men's class session in the Presbyterian Sunday school heard a talk by F. F. Barth, organizer of the new chamber of commerce.

Dr. H. A. Potts was down from Chicago from Thursday until Monday.

Mrs. Mary Bates is reported to be in a feeble condition at Upland, Cal., where she is sojourning with her brother, Mr. Baker.
She is hoping to recover sufficiently to be able to return this spring in company with Miss Dora McFarland.

Twenty-six candidates were baptized in Hurricane creek, east of Drake station Sunday afternoon. Following the morning service in the Baptist church at Patterson the people gathered at the appointed place, more than a mile distant, where the baptizing was conducted by Rev. Ernest Dawdy, assisted by Rev. Henry Dixon. These acquisitions to the Patterson Baptist church are the results of the revival campaign conducted last winter by Rev.

Ollie Shields and Rev. Dawdy, the candidates ranging in age from 16 to 60 years. This is the remarkable thing connected with the event, there being no youths, and the twenty-six represents the conversions with only one exception, whose name is not given.
Those baptized are Emma Ford,
Bessie Stice, Catherine Sorrelle,
Cecil Hahn, Lucille Dawdy, Edna

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS LETTER

"Are we down hearted?" officers at Washington headquarters of the National League of Women Voters quote when they are asked how they feel about the Supreme Court's adverse decision on the minimum wage law of the District of Columbia, and they finish the quotation with an emphatic
"No." The impression which seems to prevail that the invalid-ity of the law passed by Congress affects similar laws passed by the states is wholly unwarranted, they say, and F. A. Duxbury, chairman of the Industrial Commission of Minnesota, which administers the minimum wage law in that state, has sent them a message fortifying their belief.

"The law involved in the decision was limited to the District of Columbia," Mr. Duxbury says,
"and has no application to any state. The Minnesota minimum wage law was passed by the state legislature and has been held valid by the Minnesota Supreme Court. The power of a state legislature to pass minimum wage laws has been sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States and the recent decision in no way affects that holding."

"The duty of employers to pay the minimum wage, as required by state law," he continues, "has not been affected in any way by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States and it is hoped that no misapprehensions in regard to this duty will arise from the publicity which has been given to the decision with reference to the law passed by Congress for the District of Columbia."

The women who will officially represent the National League of Women Voters at the Washington conference called by the Women's Trade Union League May 14, to consider the minimum wage situation, are Miss Belle Sherwin, of Cleveland, first vice president and head of the department of efficiency in government, Miss Edith Abbott, of Chicago, vice chairman of the committee on women in industry, and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, resident executive secretary at the Washington headquarters.

OLD JACKSONVILLE MORGAN'S UNION ROSTER

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

Few of our citizens realize what a glorious body of men Morgan county sent out in defense of the Union of these states.

Men from this county served in seventy-three infantry regiments, sixteen cavalry regiments, two artillery regiments, three independent batteries, one separate army corps, two colored organizations, and furnished three recruits for the regular army (probably there were more than this number in the regular service).

Many of these men served thru the entire war.

High Officers
There were many high officers, the most distinguished being Major General Benjamin H. Grierson afterwards a regular army officer until retired with the rank of brigadier general.

Charles H. Adams, son of Dr. Charles Adams of the Ill. Conf. Female college, became a colonel, serving up from captain.

McLean F. Wood rose from captain to colonel, serving in three regiments, and thru the conflict, dying at Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 6, 1865.

William De Vore Green entered as private in April, 1861, re-enlisted and served thru the war, becoming lieutenant colonel, colonel and general.

George Harrison English was captain, major, lieutenant colonel and colonel in the 32nd Illinois.

Frank Adams, son of Dr. Samuel Adams was a captain with brevets of major and lieutenant colonel.

Rufus C. Crampton of Illinois college, was lieutenant colonel of the 145th Illinois.

Matthew H. Starr, colonel 6th day with Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Edward Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wiswell of Greenfield, Ill., have been visiting their cousin, Miss Lula Henderson at her home in Concord. They returned home the first of the week.

Lasting Satisfaction in the Hup- mobile

Satisfaction is perhaps the one word which best describes the feeling of every Hupmobile owner.

Satisfaction—with the faithful way it performs the tasks he sets for it to do; with the fact that it requires next to nothing in the way of expert care and adjustment; with low costs that stay low all the year 'round.

Satisfaction, in short, because the Hupmobile always does the things he wants it to do in the way he wants it to do them.
